WISE WORDS FROM POLAND.
Wise words from Poland are spoken of editorially in the New York Times as follows:

"Mr. Hoover has just finished a visit in Poland, where his relief administration has been doing good work in tidying over a hard transition period a nation left economically almost destitute. Before he left a committee representing the Polish Socialist party called on him and presented a memorial one part of which deserves to be quoted for its application to countries more favored than Poland:

"We know the difficulties and deprivations through which the Polish republic must pass during the next year, and will endeavor to live up to your slogan of full production on farms and in coal mines and factories. We must beg our American brothers in democracy to have patience with us and not to remove their support until we can get on our feet.
Give us just one more year of credits and other active sympathy, and we shall emerge a strong, self-respecting nation, prepared to face the world alone."

"The Polish socialists—who, as they point out and as their record has proved well enough, are anything but bohemians—realize that the world is still paying for the war, and that payment for the next year or so is going to be exceedingly heavy. During that year they ask for continued aid from America, aid which we ought to give for our sake as well as theirs, since it will contribute to the rebuilding of a people whose present misfortune is due to no fault of its own. In the meantime, the Poles are resolved upon full production from farms, mines, and factories; and after a year they think they can carry themselves."

"America has something of a surplus of commodities, and can use that surplus creditably and profitably in helping to save Europe on its feet. But full production from farms, mines, and factories is as important in America as it is in Poland. That is the way out of our present troubles, a way somewhat long and laborious, lacking the attraction of various widely advertised short cuts; but it is the way out. The Poles are in an economic situation such as America has never known, and they are menaced by hostile nations on either side; their position tends to cultivate the habit of realistic thinking about economic matters. All they ask is a chance to work their way out; too many Americans seem to be looking for some way to get out without work."

AN UNFAIR BILLING.

The righteousness in the argument of the regular army men that they are being discriminated against in the soldier bonus bill is taken up editorially as follows in the El Paso, Texas, Herald:

"Regular army men are making a just complaint against the act of congress which discriminates in favor of the emergency soldier in the matter of bonuses and mileage payment at the time of discharge.

"The man who enlisted for the period of the war, or who was drafted, has been paid a bonus of $50 and five cents a mile to defray his travel to his home at discharge. The regular who served as able through the war, was ready for emergency before the war and stands ready still to give his life, or at least his services, now that the war is over, not only gets no mileage, but is now deprived of his bonus and those who had received their may be compelled to return them, so army men say.

"All praise to the men who took up arms in the pinch. But the man who stands ready to defend his country against all comers at all times, is entitled at least to the same treatment accorded to his brother soldiers."

DAYLIGHT BILL.

Congress, with big-interest-backing evident around the corners, is persistent in its fight for the repeal of the daylight saving law. The bill, twice voted by President Wilson as the means of most efficient service to aid the country's production, has for the third time been passed by the house.
Senate leaders feel confident of victory when the repeal reaches them.

Practically 65 percent of the people of the nation are favorably affected by the daylight bill as it now stands.
President Wilson is to be commended for his firm stand in listening to the demands of the majority for the continuance of the law. The fight was a clear alignment of country versus city.

Kieckzka, Milwaukee, was the only Wisconsin member voting to sustain the president's veto. Voigt, Lampert, Bach, and Nelson voted for the repeal.
Cities expecting representation by their representatives have been foiled in the test.

Their Opinions

THEIR OPINION.

Sure of Loser.
"One never knows whether labor or capital will win in an industrial battle, but he knows that the consumer will lose."—La Crosse Tribune.

Why the Packers Only?
"Michigan only threatens to bar the packers from out of the state, but a threat is at least a beginning.
"Yet, why especially the packers?
Do they regulate the price of clothing, drugs, groceries, shoes?"—Madison Democrat.

Not Expecting Much.

"The Wisconsin Shoe Retailers' association will hold its annual convention in this city commencing tomorrow. Of course, it is not expected that shoes will be given away as souvenirs."—Oshkosh Daily Northwestern.

Not Good Bolstering.

"The testimony at Washington that the disposition of the Shantung affair in the peace treaty means war carries with public opinion in the United States. The American people do not like to be used to bolster up a piece of tyranny like that."—Rockford Daily Register-Gazette.

Egg Deluge Imminent.

"A deluge is imminent—a deluge of storage eggs. There is more than a suspicion that the egg hoarders may have put one over on the egg hoard hunters."—Milwaukee Journal.

John Can't Be Found.

"You know the Demi sisters, Tasso and Monde. Well, it is feared that brother John has passed away. He disappeared about July 1, and the most diligent search has failed to disclose his remains. However, it is understood he maintained his innocence to the last."—Wisconsin State Journal.

Has Good Points.

"The Warfield plan for railroad control may have plenty of faults considered abstractly, but it is infinitely better than the Plumb plan and it may be as good a plan as can be devised to get the railroads out of the terrible muddle in which the legislation of demagogues and theorists has placed them."—Wausau Record-Herald.

ASK US

The Gazette maintains an information bureau at Washington, D. C., inder the direction of Frederic J. Haskett. Questions that will be answered on any subject. Those desiring information write a letter to the Janesville Daily Gazette Information Bureau,
Washington, D. C. The letter will be answered by our bureau.

Q. How does the debt of the nation after the war compare with the debt before the war? A. L. O.
A. Before the war the great nations owed $27,000,000,000, a debt that required a century to build up. In five years that debt grew to nearly eight times the amount, or $200,000, 000,000.

Q. Can carbon copies or mimeo-graph copies of communications be sent through the mail as second class matter? B. A.

A. The postoffice department considered them as first class, and first class postage paid on it.

Q. What is the first record of the use of lead pencils? C. C.

A. A thirteenth century manuscript of Theophilus was ruled with a black lead pencil. The first description of lead pencils was given by Conray Ges-ner, Zurich, in 1665.

Q. Are cabbage leaves ever used in the manufacture of cigars? M. A. T.

A. Cabbage leaves are never actually used for this purpose. The term as applied to cigar tobacco is only one of derision for a poor product.

Q. How many officers were commissioned from officers' training camps during the war? L. F.

A. In all there were 50,600 officers commissioned after passing through these training camps that grew out of the Plattsburg experiment. Of these, 52,442 were made second lieutenants, 12,397 first lieutenants, 5,429 captains, 294 majors, one lieutenant colonel, and two colonels.

Q. How can the shine be removed from clothing? A. B. C.

A. When a garment begins to shine from wear it should be first sponged with a saturated solution of borax and water, and then sponged with clear water.

Q. Has United States trade grown in Latin America since the war began?
D. W. S.

A. Great Britain and Germany each had more Latin-America trade than the United States before the war.
Now this country ranks first.

Q. Is there a code dependent on the position of the stamp on the envelope? F.

A. The following is the best known stamp code: Stamp upside down in left corner—I love you; left corner crosswise—My heart is another's; left corner straight up and down—I am ready for you; upside down in center—Write me more; in middle at top—Yes; in middle at bottom—No; diagonally across right hand corner—Do you love me; diagonally across left hand corner—I hate you; up corner at right—I wish your friendship; on line with name—Accept my love; same upside down—I am engaged; same diagonally—I long to see you.

Q. Why is it argued that the United States should establish banks abroad when drafts can as readily be cleared through a foreign bank?
O. H. T.

A. The theory is that the banker sits with the inner circle in the development of any community—that he knows of all its movements. If the banking situation is dominated by foreign banks, the development is likely to clear through England. If there is an American bank of prominence in the community it may direct development and trade through the United States. Wherever there is an American bank it has within it the possibility of enlarging the American influence.

Q. Is there anything that will promote a growth of hair on an old scar?
A.

A. This probably may be accomplished by applying vaseline on the scar every night.

Q. Can a man be seen with the naked eye in the daytime from the bottom of a well? L. P.

A. In the reduced light at the bottom of a well the pupil of the eye would dilate, letting in more light and stars could be seen the daytime.

Q. Can a soldier who has been discharged without receiving full equipment to which he is entitled, and if he has received it, can he still apply to the "Director of Storage," War Department, Washington D. C.

Q. How can a group of service men form a post of the American legion?
J. N.

A. Fifteen service men, wherever they live, may apply for a charter and form a post. Literature giving explicit directions in this connection will be furnished to any man who writes our Washington bureau, enclosing a two-cent stamp for return postage.

MAXWELL'S RANCH

A ranch of more than one million acres, held and managed by a single man, is perhaps something that probably will never be again in the United States. There are too many people and too little land. But fifty years ago, Lucien B. Maxwell, of Colfax county, New Mexico, was the owner of such a ranch. He obtained title to an old Spanish land grant by the simple enterprise of marrying the daughter of its owner. The boundaries of the grant as described in the title were certain objects, one of them being an arroyo, or dry water course.
When Maxwell had his ranch surveyed by the United States government surveyors, they took the only dry water course they could conveniently follow, and so managed to include in the grant more than a million acres. It was probably not intended by the Spanish government to be more than a hundred thousand.

On this principally Maxwell lived for many years in a sort of rude baronial splendor. He had an enormous cabin built around a square courtyard, Mexican fashion; and here all visitors were welcome. He maintained a fine dining room where anyone could eat his fill for nothing. He kept many fine horses, and challenged all comers to races upon which enormous sums were staked.

Once a fastidious young Englishman insisted upon paying Maxwell for his breakfast. The host at first refused, but when the guest persisted, Maxwell permitted him to pay $25 for the meal, and then lit his pipe with the bunch of bills.

Maxwell's grant is now broken up into smaller holdings, the Maxwell mansion is a ruin, and Maxwell is dead.

Tourists Find Whiskey.

Rhineland.—A party of tourists exploring the ruins of an old logging camp near Powell, discovered a large barrel filled with whiskey under a pile of debris in one of the shacks.
It is thought that the liquor had been there for several years since the camp has not been used recently and the government stamps on the barrels were intact.

Farmers Organize.

Appleton.—At a meeting of the Equity farmers representing Outagami county, held here last Saturday night, it was decided to form a corporation and erect an elevator and warehouse. A committee pointed to arrange the incorporation which will have a capital stock of $50,000. It will be known as the Outagami Equity exchange.

Only Two Vacant Houses.

Appleton.—A canvass made by the city mail carriers show that there are only two vacant houses in the city of Appleton and one of them will be occupied as soon as remodeled. The population of Appleton is now 22,500.
The 1910 census gave it as 16,773.

the local housing problem was taken when a committee of prominent business men was appointed by the Asso-

AMBITION.

It matters not what task you choose
Who that sort of tools in life you use;
It matters not what job you have
If you will meet the test; Select what form of work you will
Or any place you care to fill
Then go to work and make yourself
The equal of the best.
Whatever be your mission here
Make this your one ambition here
To toil for something more on earth
Than merely drink and grub;
Determine in your chosen line
To stand among the men who shine
And vow to be a good one, not a dub!

Don't let another man surpass
Your efforts in your chosen class;
Keep at it till you stand with all
The leaders of your clan;
Although you may be laying bricks
Or making fancy candlesticks
Don't be content while someone else
Does better than you can.
Let this your one ambition be:
To struggle for supremacy;
Don't be content to drift and join
The second raters club;
Whatever work you choose to do
Forever keep this aim in view
To make yourself a good one, not a dub.

The world is full of men who think Success is found in meat and drink.
The drifters and the "good enoughs"
Make up a mighty throng.
But few there are who meet the test
Of striving hard to do their best
Or dare to challenge in their line
All men who come along.
It matters not what work you choose
What sort of tools in life you use,
If you're the leader in your line
You need not fear a snub;
Be what you will on this old earth
The world shall recognize your worth.

Why Soft Water Is Better

When water chaps the hands, roughens the skin, wastes soap and forms scale in the kettle or steam boiler, you call it "hard." Scientists will tell you that it has simply absorbed calcium (lime) and magnesium in certain forms, from the earth. The degree of hardness depends upon the amount of these elements absorbed.

In laundry work, the usual practice is to "break" the water.
This is done by adding a soda preparation (sodium soda, washing powders, soda ash, etc.). Part of the soda and soap combines with lime and magnesium from the water, resulting in a partial softening.

But in this process there forms a gummy curd, which is almost as objectionable as the original hardness. This limestone curd—You have seen it, no doubt, in the wash tub or the dishpan at home—penetrates and clings to the fabrics, giving them a harsh feel and musty, soapy odor. It turns linens and other white goods an unsightly yellow hue. It causes more rapid deterioration of all cloth.

Furthermore, soda is caustic or destroying in its nature. An excess, which is necessary to "break" water, tenders and weakens animal fibres, such as woolsens and silks. Great care must be exercised in its use.

REFINITE
KING OF THE CLOUDS

Refinite is a water softening mineral, not a preparation to "break" water. The hard water from the main service line supplying our laundry passes through a large steel tank containing this mineral and it comes out perfectly soft.

Refinite softened water cannot damage the finest fabric. It makes less rubbing necessary, and removes all of the soap in rinsing. It is delicious and healthful to drink.

Nature has made Perfect Soft Water practical.

WORK OF JAMESVILLE HOUSING CORPORATION PLEASES MAYOR WELSH

Mayor T. E. Welsh said this morning that after making an inspection of the work so far finished by the Jamesville Housing Corporation, he was more than pleased and sure that the 350 houses ordered built would be finished by July 1, 1920.

In discussing the housing situation in Jamesville, Mayor Welsh said: "In last night's issue of the Gazette I was quoted as saying that I was disappointed at the progress made by the Housing Corporation up to July 1. The statement is correct. Inasmuch as I have been quoted publicly, I think it only fair to the corporation to state publicly that I have kept close watch on the progress made by the corporation since that time."

Knowing the great need for houses, I believe that every member of the corporation should take hold and boost, and come forward with suggestions promptly when called for. I am very glad to know that the corporation will rent or sell the houses. There has been some delay in getting the first houses ready for occupancy, but the delay has been in no way reflected in the progress of the work. I have two letters from the Macomb Pipe Company and a telegram that two 12-inch pipes on the job will be put in place by the end of the week. The Macomb company says that it will ship as many pipes as can be secured. I am sure that work will be started and rushed to completion in the near future."

ALLEGED DICE GAME RAIDED; MEN WERE PLAYING PENNY ANTE

Shortly after 9 o'clock last night five police officers, led by Chief Thos. Morrissey, swooped down on a crew of men, who, it was supposed, were shooting dice in the basement of the new building which is being erected by the Barker-Karpis company on Court street.

Several complaints have been received at the police station during the past week concerning the noise and men who are playing dice in the basement of the new building. Third ward residents were sure that a dice game was in progress and they wanted it stopped.

Now, dice games have long been extinct in Jamesville (or it is supposed they have) and Chief Morrissey decided to personally conduct the raid.

The officers descended from all streets, the building was somewhat surprised when they found a few of the men who are working on the building sitting about indulging in a little penny ante.

The men were taken to the station, along with 29 cents, which was found. After listening to a few words of advice from Chief Morrissey on the gambling law, they were allowed their freedom.

Salvation Army Rooms to Be Improved

At a meeting of the Salvation Army held last night, several improvements to their present site, 401 North Main street, were discussed and approved. Brigadier J. C. Smith, Milwaukee, divisional officer for Wisconsin and parts of Michigan and Minnesota, attended the meeting. He heartily approved the improvements mentioned and told Commandant Joseph Connor, of the local army, to have whatever repairs that were needed made.

The rooms have recently been repapered and a new lighting system installed, but the front needs painting and new windows are needed.

What are people talking about?—the league of nations and the Cafeteria.

Children to Rewrite Exams Thursday Also

In last night's issue of the Gazette, it was stated that the rural school children who wrote on the diploma examinations in May had passed all but a few of the subjects. They would have a chance to rewrite these subjects and obtain a diploma, Monday and Tuesday. The children will have a chance to rewrite them tomorrow and Tuesday, according to an announcement made by county superintendent of schools, O. D. Antisdel.

CORRECTION

In the advertisement of the Jamesville Chamber of Commerce, which appeared in Tuesday's Gazette, the prices of the dresses should have read: $9.75, $10.75 and $11.75.

Don't delay—start today—eat ice cream.

EVANSVILLE BUTTER WORKERS WALK OUT

(By Special Correspondence.)
Evansville, Aug. 20.—A growing friction between employers and the butter workers of the D. Wood Butter Company came to a climax last Thursday morning when several of the workers walked out.

According to the story told by the workers, 40 cans of milk for the Alhambra creamery were being delivered to Seymour when the workers walked out. The workers were angry because the manager had walked out of the workers' prepared to leave and asked the engineer to join them.

A meeting was held and it was decided to lay the matter before Robert Pearsall, manager of the plant. He was out of the city at the time and the men stated that owing to past experiences it would be better to either have the workers walk out or have the manager to join them.

It is reported that Mr. Pearsall accepted the resignation of the workers. He announced today that the factory never stopped operation and that two of the original 13 to walk out are back. Charles Morrill and Charles Brooks are said to have returned to work.

THE WISHING PLANE

The next day the children, Captain Brave, Ladybird, and Booh flew up to one of the summer pastures above the forest lands to spend the day with the herdsmen watching the cattle. You remember, the cattle and sheep are taken up to the mountain sides for the summer pastures for the summer months while hay is raised on the meadows below to be fed to the animals during the long winter.

"It must be awfully lonesome for the man watching the cattle," said Jack as the big plane carried them over the wood-covered mountain sides.

"They're too busy to get lonesome," said Mrs. Ann.

"Why do they have anything to do besides watch the cattle to see that they don't wander away or get hurt?" asked Jane.

"You just wait and see," replied the widow lady.

And the children soon saw. There were about a dozen men around the little chalet built on the edge of the pasture.

There were three or four men were watching the cattle as they ate.

News Notes from Movieland

BY DAISY DEAN.

Katherine MacDonald is the name of the blue-eyed, fair-haired young woman who plays the part of "The woman" in "The Woman Thou Gavest Me." She has been highly praised for her work in that picture, although even her good work could not save the picture from being a very poor production of a very good book.

Katherine made her first bow to the screen in a Douglas Fairbanks picture. She made good and has been in pictures ever since. She was born in Pittsburg and went to a Pennsylvania college. Not long after her graduation Mr. Fairbanks met her and was struck with her beauty. He asked her if she would like to try pictures and she said she would, and she did.

Later she appeared in "Riddle Gawne" and "Spark Monroe" with Mr. Hart, and now comes perhaps her largest part, that of the lead in "The Woman Thou Gavest Me."

Those who have read the story will be disappointed in the picture, for while the story was tense and gripping and convincing, the picture falls short in every one of those qualities. The action is so condensed that it is far from convincing and some of the close-ups and other important bits are so long and drawn out that all tension is lost. Miss MacDonald, however, shows that she can act and her part of the unloved wife is not an easy one.

Ertzi Brunette, who plays the part of a vivacious vampire in the play, does some very good work, but she has received many letters from admirers asking her please not to play vampire roles, as she is too pretty. We think so, too, for if ever we liked a vampire it was Miss Ertzi in "The Woman Thou Gavest Me."

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Pease, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Pope and son, Donald, Fulton, were callers in this vicinity Sunday.

the fact that she is having some new and exclusive styles designed and executed for her by "Luelle" and "Frances" and several other modistes will be welcome news to all her feminine admirers.

A VERSATILE STAR

Agnes Ayres has a fine singing voice. Of course motion picture "fans" were not able to learn of this, but Miss Ayres is thinking seriously of making the fact known. She is now considering a number of offers she has received to appear on the speaking stage, and it would not surprise us a bit if we saw her as the star of one of next season's musical comedies.

GOSSIPY BITS

Olive Thomas' favorite pet is a huge Russian wolfhound.

Billie Burke says that her daughter,

Patricia Ziegfeld, is being reared according to the most modern scientific methods.

"Pepper" is the name of a large gray cat that figures frequently in Sennett comedies.

"I did everything I could to make myself nervous when I was a child," says Helen Eddy, "because I had heard that all great actors were nervous. I thought if I couldn't get excited I couldn't act."

Myrtle Lind is frequently found tramping through the woods. She has some becoming tramping outfits.

Marguerite Marsh's chief interest, outside the movies, is astronomy.

ENGLISHWOMEN

LOOK TO U. S.

Englishwomen of all classes, high and low, see promise of careers on this side of the Atlantic. At least that is the word brought back by an American woman who has been visiting in England.

It seems that everybody from the little girls who run the elevators, lifts them over their heads, up to the English women of fashion who ride in the limousines and in America as a land of promise. The clerks, tailor apprentices, hotel maids and all the other "help" with whom one comes in contact when traveling about all seem to think that as far as opportunities for a life work are concerned America is the place to find them. The traveler relates the strange experience of meeting a little woman who wants to come to America to work and then after she is established to send for her husband who is loath to leave his native land and his good job—quite a reversal of the old state of affairs.

ODD BITS ABOUT WOMEN

Miss Jessie Ackerman, a writer, is said to hold the world's record as a Woman traveler, having traveled 300,000 miles and visited 30 countries.

The women of Texas have reached the point where they would gladly shoulder rifles and go across the Rio Grande and kill the Mexican outlaws who have been responsible for the recent outrages against American women and children.

Fifty-four percent of the voters in the last national assembly election in Germany were women. Young women proved more ardent voters than youths of the same age.

The women's units of the British army will receive war medals the same as the men.

WHOS WHO

in the Day's News

GLENN E. PLUMB

Glenn E. Plumb, who appeared before the house yesterday in connection with the proposed railroad brotherhoods for the proposed nationalization of the railway system, has taken an active part in anti-corporation movements in the middle west, but was not widely known in Washington until his present plan was advanced.

Mr. Plumb is about 50 years old. He was graduated from Oberlin college in 1884, and from the Harvard law school. Soon after being admitted to the bar he became a member of the Chicago law firm of which Merritt Starr was head, and there obtained his first extensive and practical introduction to corporation laws.

Mr. Plumb devoted several years to an exclusive study of railway legislation and operation, including charter law, from the time of the organization of the first American railway system. He was retained by State's Attorney Henry of Chicago in the action against the street railway systems there as far back as 1903.

Four years ago he was employed by the railroad brotherhoods to act as an expert before the interstate commerce commission and his work attracted much attention. He is now general counsel for the organized railway employees of America, which includes the brotherhoods and 10 affiliated railway organizations.

Mr. Plumb did not take any part in the fight of the brotherhoods made in 1916 in forcing the Adams law through congress. For 15 years, however, he has been studying the railway situation as it applied to the principles he has incorporated in the Plumb plan for government ownership and nationalization.

Mr. Plumb is five feet eight inches in height and weighs about 180 pounds. He has gray hair and blue eyes. His personality is engaging. Mr. Plumb now lives in Chevy Chase, having moved there from Chicago when the plans were completed to stage the fight for the Plumb plan for railroads.

He has a son who is a corporal in Battery B of the Eighty-third field artillery.

ON THE SPUR of the MOMENT

ROY E. MOULTON

THE UGLY ONE. Good looks don't buy the siren's steak. Nor handsome eyes the coal. A man whose face a clock would stop is generally up near the top. And reaches first the goal.

The gawky kid with flaming hair. We used to guy in school. Knew not the joy that beauty brings. But when it came to learning things. He never was a fool.

The prettiest young girl in town. Was proud to be his wife. He owns a bank and railroad line. A gas plant and a copper mine. And is well fixed in life.

The pretty boys with curly hair. Who got kind words on every hand. Are selling soap from door to door. Or clerking in a dry goods store. Or managing a peanut stand.

DEPARTED HEROES. In passing drop a bouquet on "The grace of Anson Farr, Who never held you for an hour. To lie about his car."

In passing drop a brick-bat on "The head of old man Buck; Who's always knocking at the door. To sell your wife some truck."

In passing kindly drop a tear. For William Rotter Reef. He had some trouble with his car. But never said, "I'm deaf."

BY JACK KEENE.

The war also be found in the unofficial attendance figures of the Giants' trip through the west. The first three games had a total number of fans of 10,000, while the last four had 25,000. They were drawn through the turnstiles by McGraw's men in Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, St. Louis and Chicago. In 1915, the attendance figures were 55,000, 50,000, 40,000 and 35,000.

The Giants began their invasion with a double header in Pittsburgh, which attracted 12,000 rooters. The following day 10,000 turned out for the first game of the series in Cincinnati. On the last day of the sojourn in the Smoky City threatening weather kept the attendance down to about 3,500.

Chicago was the scene of the big series on Wednesday. The first game drew 12,000 fans. The second saw 12,000 big boys hold down seats in the stands at Redland field. Twenty-two thousand turned out the second day, and the third day 20,000. The attendance record at the park was shattered when 21,211 fans trooped through the portals.

In St. Louis, where interest in the Cardinals is at a low ebb, the total attendance for the three game series was about 3,500.

Chicago fans were attracted in numbers to the games played by the Giants in that city. Twelve thousand saw the first encounter, 20,000 cheered the Cubs to victory in the second, and the Sunday crowd was about 25,000.

Joe Tinker, one great shortstop of the Cubs, former major league manager and now president of the National American Association, who saw the Giants and Cubs play recently, is loud in his praises of Ross and the Giants.

"I don't think I've ever seen the greatest kid players I ever saw," he said. "He does everything he has to do well, and with the knowledge which comes with experience, combined with his natural ability, I think he'll yet be one of the greatest players the game has ever known."

Brunswick Principles In Fine Tire Making

The reason you are interested in the name on your tire is that it identifies the maker. By knowing the maker you can judge his ideals of manufacture.

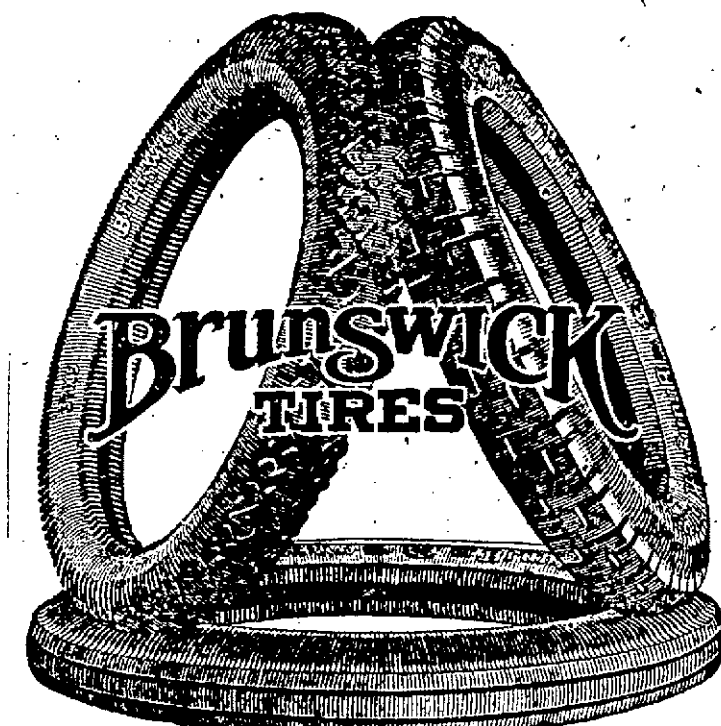

The only secret of a super-tire lies in the principles of the maker. His standards decide the quality. For there are no secrets in the tire industry.

What you get depends on what is behind the name on your tire. Brunswick, as you know, means a very old concern, jealous of its good name. Since 1845 the House of Brunswick has been famous the world over for the quality of its products.

The Brunswick Tire is all that you expect—and more. Your first one will be a revelation. You'll agree that you've never known a better. And you'll tell your friends. So spreads the news among motorists. The Brunswick is the most welcome tire that ever came to market.

built. And remember, it costs no more than like-type tires.

U.S. REVENUE SERVICE REORGANIZED.

IN DAYS GONE BY

40 YEARS AGO
August 20, 1879.—Tom Austin did some good work with his threshing last Monday. In 12 hours he threshed out the entire yield of 50 acres, it being 740 bushels of succotash and 392 bushels of wheat. A safe was blown open at Monroe last night by burglars and $75 in cash stolen. No trace has been discovered yet, and the work shows that it was done by a professional. M. C. Smith left for the east this morning on business. Last evening the Wallace combination gave "The Comedy of Errors" at the Opera House. The theater was well filled and the audience received the play with much applause.

80 YEARS AGO
August 20, 1839.—At the meeting of the board of education last night, new names were given to the schools of the city. Hereafter instead of naming them by the ward they are in, they will be known by the following names: 1st ward—Washington, 2nd ward—Adams, 3rd ward—Jefferson, 4th ward—Webster and 5th ward—Douglas. The Central school will be known as the Lincoln school. Miss Daisy Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Butler, Main street, was married to D. Hovey, Toronto, Canada, at 11:30 o'clock this morning by Rev. S. F. Wilder. They will make their home in Toronto after a short wedding trip. James A. Fathers and A. B. Barnes have purchased the meat business of Louthain and Varvaen, on the corner of South Main and Court streets. They will continue the meat business.

20 YEARS AGO
August 20, 1899.—Sunday—No paper published.
10 YEARS AGO
August 20, 1909.—Dr. Brown, the newly appointed superintendent of the State Institution for the Blind, has arrived in the city and has assumed charge of the school. It will open September 15. Miss Helen Clark left this morning for Chicago, where she will spend two weeks with relatives. Miss Jessie Georger is visiting in Milwaukee. Mesdames Stanley Smith and E. P. Doty entertained yesterday at the Smith home, the Misses Agnes Shumway, Elizabeth McKee and Mabel Greenman, who are soon to be brides. Mrs. John R. Ramsey, the first woman to cross the continent in an automobile, has arrived in San Francisco, to where she drove from New York city.

JANESVILLE IS TO BE SUB-DIVISION OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE

The internal revenue service is to be taken to the people of the state of Wisconsin, according to an announcement made by Commissioner Daniel C. Roper. Division and sub-division offices, open at all times, which will serve as personal service stations to taxpayers, are soon to be established in 15 of the leading cities of the state. This city is to become the headquarters of one of the sub-division offices. Consolidation of the two Wisconsin internal revenue collection districts effects a centralization of the office work, which is largely of an accounting character, and permits the extension of the field service by the establishment of 10 general divisions. Headquarters will be established as early as possible in each of these divisions, where an office will be maintained open at all times, with men in charge especially qualified to assist taxpayers on income and all miscellaneous tax matters. The general plan now provides for the establishment of headquarters for the 10 divisions into which the state is divided in the following cities: Milwaukee, Madison, Racine, LaCrosse, Eau Claire, Superior, Wausau, Green Bay, Oshkosh and Sheboygan. Sub-division offices offering the same facilities for serving taxpayers will be established at Kenosha, Janesville, Ashland, Appleton, Manitowish, and Fond du Lac. In addition, when this plan is under full headway, zone deputies will be stationed for the first week of every month in every city having over 5,000 population in the state, as well as many other cities and towns which have no representative of the revenue service. The zone deputy will spend the remainder of the month in surrounding territory, usually one or two counties.

KAISER BARGAINS TO BUY CASTLE HOME IN HOLLAND

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Amersfoort, Saturday, Aug. 16.—Although it has been known in Amersfoort that former Emperor William, in the hope of settling down to the life of a country gentleman in Holland had been negotiating for the purchase of the Castle of Doorn, the correspondent today was unable to definitely confirm a dispatch from Utrecht that the deal had been completed. The castle is owned by Baroness Van Helmsdrake de Beaufort and is situated near Doorn. "Nothing had been settled," was the reply of those close to Herr Hohenzollern, when questioned. The occupants of the Bentinck castle have been watching newspapers closely the past week and are said to have given attention to the statement of Secretary Lansing before the senate commission on the trial of the former emperor and similar statements in the English press. Despite official announcements of the intention of the allies to try the former emperor, the general belief among his advisers, it is said, is that the allies will not make a serious effort to bring him to trial.

Blooded American Cattle Shipped to South America

Fulton, Mo.—Two South American cattlemen, Terra Arconia and Bar. raju Reissig, of Montevideo, Uruguay, have purchased two heifers and a bull from W. N. Collier, a local breeder, and will ship them with 40 other pure blooded stock to their ranch. The cattle will cost $300 each to ship them to South America. Heretofore all the cattle on the

(Of course the speaker must have been miraculously endowed to be able to estimate exactly how weary the sweeping and washing and ironing and scrubbing—which she, with her powerful physique, finds as nothing leaves this woman.)
"I've been an invalid 10 years," writes a letter friend, "and I cannot go away from home without being in bed and so miserable for days afterward that my whole family have to wait on me. So I stay at home, preferring to be a help to my family and avoid the suffering. I've had so many critical things said of me and my looks one could easily interpret as meaning, 'You could go if you would.' I've even heard them say, 'Oh, I never give up. I just keep on going if I am sick.' But I know they haven't a bit more to give up."
The Most Expert Physician Might Well Envy Her.
—Another case of the person who apparently has some miraculous method of judging other's mental and nervous and physical conditions—a power which the most expert physician might well envy.
If grit and strength of will could be measured and weighed, I wonder if we could not sometimes find the person who seems to do very little, does far more than the one who seems to do much.
(Of course, the speaker must have been not only a mind reader but a very clever diagnostician of nervous troubles to have no doubts on such a delicate matter as that.)
She Sits Mrs. B. Down as Lazy.
Again: "If Mrs. B. didn't spend so much of her time with an automobile and I know that would do her a great deal more good. Of course, she says she simply isn't strong enough to do the heavy work in the house but I think she's inclined to be lazy."

ranches of Uruguay have been bought in England. However, the men are so well pleased with American cattle they say they will buy theirs in the future in America.
Arconia owns 10,000 acres of land and has 4,000 head of cattle. Reissig is secretary of the Hersford Purebred association in Uruguay.
"SOUVENIR" SUICIDE.
London.—Grieving because he was fined for having taken an anti-Zeppelin bullet for a souvenir, John Garat committed suicide at his home in Edmonston. The fact was brought out through testimony of his son at the inquest. The coroner ruled that Garat was insane at the time.
